DESCRIPTION

Holloway & Naughton 12g Over/Under Sidelock Ejector

A faithful rendition of the Boss & Co. Over/Under Sidelock Ejector patented in 1909 with the same type of bifurcated lumps and trunnion system. These are Protruding studs on the bottom barrel that lay into semi-circular slots on each side of the action. These studs act as the barrel's lumps and require a much shallower action shape to work with the stacked barrels, giving the guns a slimmer profile.

The action is color hardened with a R&S type engraving, signed by the trigger "DELAHAUT G.", with gold lined cocking indicators and the word "SAFE" and the serial number inlaid in gold.

Gun is very nicely stocked in with a highly figured French walnut with characteristic light honey color and very dark marbling with "fiddle back" radiating through the entire butt stock. Traditional drop points and point pattern checkering and a Woodward style grip with a trigger bow that extends to an ebony pistol grip cap. Stock has 15 ½" LOP over a checkered butt. The forend matches perfectly and uses the Boss type ejector system, also patented in 1909, with the long cocking rods housed in the with the same type of Boss extended forend iron that runs the top edge of the forend.

The 30" demi-bloc barrels have a solid machine matted top rib and semi-circular Boss type rib extension. The gun has original 2 ¾" (70mm) chambers with 2006 London proof marks. The barrels are fitted with Teague chokes and carry 2009 Birmingham proof marks from when the chokes were added.

Gun has most likely been fired but appears as new in a Maker's lightweight leather "VC" case with canvas cover.
