

Boss, 12-bore, pair, best sidelock ejectors
Serial Number 10286/7
£145000.00

DESCRIPTION

The Boss sidelock ejector is often considered the most graceful of the London side-locks perfected in the early Twentieth Century.

With bar action locks and patent coil-spring ejectors, it has proven itself a reliable and beautiful companion in the field and has graced the finest shoots in the land, in the hands of royalty and the aristocracy, for over a century.

This beautiful pair of 12-bores, made in 2008, a period of high-class work even by the standards of this maker, gives the owner the option of 27" barrels or 32" barrels, according to the circumstances of the day.

Both sets of best chopper-lump barrels are proof tested to take modern 70mm (2 ¾") nitro cartridges and measure as they did when proofed.

With classic, traditional, Boss-style, fine rose and scroll engraving, executed to the highest standard, stunning, long, straight-hand walnut stocks and two triggers, they are as close as it is possible to get to the ideal Boss game gun of a century earlier.

Available without the wait, in 'as new' condition, these guns represent an opportunity to buy a true pair of best Boss game guns that rarely arises
